COMMENT

PROMZ PRODUCT PREMIÈRE: LICENSE TO CHANGE

Let me begin by wishing everyone in the industry the very best for the new year. Here's to a successful and healthy 2025!

The theme License to Change couldn't be more fitting this year. Our industry is undergoing a significant transformation — from increasing regulations and sustainability requirements to IT investments and more. To stay relevant, we too must evolve. That's why we've transitioned from two exhibition venues (one in the Netherlands and one in Belgium) to a single, stunning location right on the border of the two countries: Breda.

In addition, we've chosen to shine a spotlight on two key categories: workwear and Christmas. These are integral aspects of our industry that deserve dedicated attention. While we've already emphasized these topics in our magazine content, it's now time to bring them to the forefront at our event, the PromZ Product Première. This will include not only giving exhibitors in these categories more prominence but also introducing new industry awards. These awards will recognize the best dealers in workwear, corporate wear, and promotional textiles/merchandise, as well as the best supplier of Christmas hampers and year-end gifts.

With around 200 brands showcased at the exhibition, there's plenty to inspire you as you gear up for the new promotional year. Enjoy the event and, once again, we wish you a very successful 2025!

On behalf of the PromZ Product Première team,

John Michael Swaab

NEW AWARDS TO HIGHLIGHT THE IMPORTANCE OF A SECTOR

For over 20 years, we have been presenting the several Awards for Supplier of the Year during The Supplierdays. These awards are specifically focused on the promotional products industry. However, our sector is, of course, broader than just promotional products. That's why we have decided to introduce new awards for the first time in 2025 in the following categories:

- Promotional Textiles/Merchandise
- Corporate Wear
- Workwear
- Christmas and Year-End Gifts

Dealers in the above textile categories and distributors/intermediaries in the Christmas and year-end gift segment will have the opportunity to win an award through the following process:

1. Suppliers nominate dealers and distributors (online).
2. An expert jury reviews the nominations based on criteria such as knowledge, advisory role, certifications, etc.
3. Nominees can gather votes from their customers.
4. The expert jury contributes 65% of the score, while customer/supplier votes account for 35%.

At the end of the first day of the trade show (January 22) at 5:00 PM, the awards will be presented during a festive event on the exhibition floor of the PromZ Product Première in Breda. Naturally, everyone is warmly invited to attend!

THE ROLE OF INDUSTRY AWARDS

Industry awards play a crucial role in strengthening a sector by rewarding excellence and fostering innovation. They provide recognition to companies and professionals who excel in their field, enhancing their credibility while inspiring others to pursue higher quality standards. Additionally, these awards draw attention to the industry as a whole, making it more visible to a broader audience. This increased visibility can lead to greater trust, collaboration, and growth within the sector.

TEXTILES IN THE PROMOTIONAL MARKET

In the promotional market, textiles play a crucial role. From T-shirts and hoodies to polo shirts and work jackets, promotional textiles are not only functional gifts but also powerful communication tools. For distributors and dealers of promotional products, workwear, and Christmas or year-end gifts, textiles offer unique opportunities to enhance brand experience and customer loyalty.

WHY TEXTILES?

Promotional textiles are versatile products. They are practical, durable, and suitable for various target audiences and occasions. Printed or embroidered garments act as walking billboards, enabling your customers to reach a wide audience. Additionally, textiles exude professionalism. A uniform with a company logo not only boosts brand visibility but also fosters a sense of team spirit and reliability.

VERSATILITY IN APPLICATION

One of the greatest advantages of textiles in the promotional market is their versatility. Promotional textiles can be utilized at events, trade shows, as corporate clothing, sportswear, or as part of Christmas and year-end gifts. Think of a luxurious fleece vest as a winter gift or a sporty polo shirt during a summer campaign. This flexibility makes textiles an appealing product for both businesses and consumers.

QUALITY AND SUSTAINABILITY

The quality of textiles is a critical factor. Modern consumers are increasingly focused on sustainability and expect brands to align with this priority. By choosing eco-friendly materials and production processes, such as organic cotton or recycled fabrics, businesses can not only meet this trend but also enhance their image. This allows distributors and dealers to position their product range as forward-thinking and socially responsible.

PERSONALIZATION AS THE KEY TO SUCCESS

Another important aspect of promotional textiles is the ability to personalize. With high-quality printing and embroidery techniques, companies can professionally and creatively showcase their logos and messages. Personalization not only increases brand value but also ensures the recipient feels appreciated, amplifying the product's impact.

THE PROMZ PRODUCT PREMIÈRE

The PromZ Product Première offers the perfect opportunity to enrich your knowledge and network. Textiles will play a significant role at the event. Together, let's make 2025 a successful year for textiles!

THE IMPORTANCE OF CHRISTMAS AND YEAR-END GIFTS IN THE PROMOTIONAL MARKET

December is known as a time of warmth, connection, and appreciation. For businesses, this is the perfect moment to strengthen relationships and show gratitude to clients, partners, and employees. Christmas and year-end gifts play a crucial role in this and simultaneously offer enormous opportunities within the promotional market. But what makes these gifts so important, and how can you, as a distributor, capitalize on this effectively?

WHY CHRISTMAS AND YEAR-END GIFTS ARE ESSENTIAL

1. Relationship Management: A well-chosen gift conveys appreciation and demonstrates that you value your relationships. This strengthens the bond with clients and partners, contributing to loyalty and collaboration in the long run.
2. Brand Enhancement: By personalizing a gift with a logo, message, or specific branding, your brand remains top-of-mind. This leaves a lasting impression and serves as a subtle yet effective form of marketing.
3. Positive Emotion: Gifts evoke feelings of gratitude and appreciation. These positive associations are often linked to your brand, enhancing your image.

TRENDS IN CHRISTMAS AND YEAR-END GIFTS

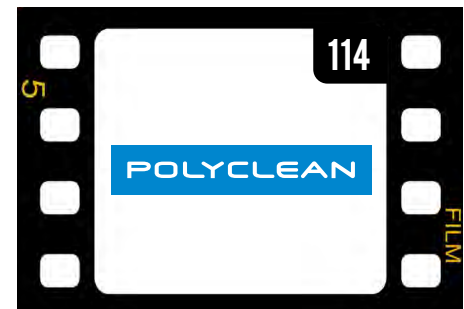

In recent years, there has been a clear shift in what companies seek in promotional gifts. Sustainability and personalization have become key factors. Think of eco-friendly materials, reusable products, and unique designs tailored to the specific preferences of the recipient. As a distributor, staying informed about these trends and offering a selection that aligns with your clients' demands is essential.

Christmas and year-end gifts are more than just a tradition; they are a strategic tool in the promotional market. By responding smartly to trends and focusing on quality and personalization, you can optimally serve your clients as a distributor. The PromZ Product Première provides the perfect opportunity to expand your knowledge and network. Together, let's make it a successful promotional year!
